

WORK OF CONGRESS FOR THIS WEEK

THE LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM IS FORECASTED.

Cuban Resolutions to Be Forced in the Senate—Night Sessions, if Necessary—No Definite Plan of Proceedings in the House—Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The outlook as to the proceedings in the senate for the present week is not very clear. Nothing is certain except that Senator Sherman and others of the supporters of the Cuban resolutions will attempt to force them to a finality. Whether they will succeed in this will depend upon various considerations, the most important of which is the question as to whether the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill shall be passed in advance of the Cuban debate by the committee on appropriations.

Senator Cullom, who is a member of both the committee on appropriations and the committee on foreign relations, and who will have charge of the legislative bill in the senate, had not decided definitely what his course would be when spoken to upon the question, but indicated that the appropriation bill could not be delayed for a great length of time on account of any other matter.

Senator Hale, who is leading the opposition to the conference report on the Cuban resolutions, is the second member of the committee on appropriations and his influence will naturally be cast for the displacement of the Cuban discussion by the appropriation bill. It is confidently expected that the legislative bill will be disposed of during the week, so as to have it out of the way for the postoffice bill, which is to be the next appropriation bill reported. There probably will be two or three days of debate upon this bill.

Senator Sherman hopes to be able to continue the consideration of the Cuban question until it shall be concluded. He says he thinks it can be disposed of by Tuesday and that he probably will ask the senate to sit at night until the vote can be reached.

Senator Hale says, however, that he does not fear night sessions, and that he has no purpose of prolonging the debate for the purpose of delay. Among those who still desire to speak are Senators White, Vilas, Palmer, Platt and Turpie. Senator Mills may also be heard on the pro-Cuban side of the question.

No definite program has been arranged for the house this week. The naval appropriation bill, which is the next supply bill to be taken up, has not yet been reported to the house, and until it is that body will drift along occupying itself with such minor matters as may be called up by the committees.

It is thought, however, that the naval bill will be reported by Wednesday or Thursday at the farthest. The public lands committee has several minor bills which can be called up, as have also the judiciary, foreign affairs and banking and currency.

The most important of the latter is the bill permitting national banks to take out circulation up to the par value of their bonds.

Today, under the rules, is District of Columbia day.

Civil Service Extension.

Washington, March 23.—The president has issued a comprehensive order extending the civil service, to practically the entire Indian service save those offices above and including that of agent, to which appointments are made by the president, and the few minor positions of a laboring character like cooks and washerwomen. Indians who show their fitness hereafter, are to be allowed appointment to any of these positions, though they cannot secure transfer to position in the classified service outside the Indian work.

WOULD PREFER WAR.

Madrid Newspaper Makes an Emphatic Declaration.

Madrid, March 23.—The Herald says: "Spain could never recognize a United States commission of inquiry into Cuban affairs. It is impossible that President Cleveland should have such an idea. War between Spain and America would be preferable. Spain in former times has accepted the consequences of more terrible struggles than would be a war with the United States, and we should prefer to risk a war to recognizing the commission."

London, March 23.—A Madrid dispatch to the Standard says: "Almost all the newspapers here pretend to regard as unfounded the rumor that President Cleveland will appoint a Cuban commission, and they echo the sentiments of the Herald on the subject. No official intimation of such a commission has yet been received here."

Revenue Cutter Cadet Examination.

Washington, March 23.—An examination will be held in Washington early in May for candidates desiring to enter the revenue cutter service as cadets. There are now twelve vacancies to be filled, with a probability of two more before May 1 should the revenue cutter bill to retire officers at the age of 64 years become a law. Candidates must not be less than 18 nor more than 25 years of age and unmarried. The pay of cadets is $500 a year and one commuted ration.

RENEWS HIS CHARGES.

Senator Chandler Talks of Very Large Sums Raised for McKinley.

Washington, March 23.—The Washington Post prints a letter from Senator Chandler, in which he reiterates many of the charges he lately made against McKinley's managers. Mr. Chandler said in part:

"The interview with me on the 16th has led to much misrepresentation of its terms. I said nothing unkind of Mr. McKinley personally, but called attention to certain methods of some of his managers, and protested against their adoption. The substance of the charge made by me was that the same man who had assisted in raising the money to pay Mr. McKinley's debts were calling upon the owners of protected industries to make contributions to help nominate him for president. Although the charge has been denied by Gen. Grosvenor and others, a review of the subject confirms my conviction that it is true. As bearing upon the question whether the collection and the use of the funds are for reasonable and legitimate nomination expenditures, I add that the fund which was planned to raise was to be $250,000, a sum which could not be needed except for illegitimate purposes. In view of the effort to raise this large fund from protected interests, my points were very simple and clear.

"Such a movement is unfair and unjust toward the other candidates, in whose behalf it is certain no such large sums of money are being raised or used. The interests of the republican party will be seriously injured by demanding and receiving such large contributions from the representatives of protected interests. It has been a continued cause of attack by the opponents of protection—the belief that the system has been maintained, republican victories achieved and particular tariff schedules secured from congress by the money of manufacturers. Whatever may be said in justification of reasonable contributions from such interests toward the expense of presidential and congressional elections after the nominations are made, a system of using money to control republican nominations for office would be scandalous in the highest degree and fatal to all attempts to maintain the purity and honesty of the party organization."

DEBS IN THE PULPIT.

Churchmen Chided for Their Attitude Toward Labor.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 23.—After the first Baptist church auditorium became crowded Sunday night as never before, the ushers stepped outside the doors and told the hundreds who came that they would not be able to hear Eugene Debs tell what the church ought to do for labor. Debs is not a believer in Christianity, but Rev. Mr. Holmes, in his invocation, asked divine inspiration for what Mr. Debs should say. Debs said the church could discuss the social and economic conditions, if it were not afraid, and in that way assist the cause of labor. He said that the church, as an institution, is not in sympathy with labor, and there is a lack of the spirit of the brotherhood of man in the church. When ministers do talk about labor it is to advise the wage-earner not to break the law, but the same advice is not given to the employer who is a lawbreaker.

Big Oil Refinery Burned.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 23.—Early Sunday morning fire in the Atlantic refinery caused a loss of over $100,000. The fire started from some unknown cause in the warehouse and before it could be checked had enveloped the warehouse and spread to the tanks. The burning oil rushed down from the tanks and spread in streams of fire. The water poured upon the oil had no effect and only served to scatter it. The fluid rushed over the tracks of the Allegheny Valley railroad, and blocked all traffic. The telegraph and telephone wires and poles near the refinery were burned down. Altogether 125,000 barrels of oil were destroyed, most of it refined.

Afraid of the Arid Land Bill.

Lincoln, Neb., March 23.—Settlers in the western part of the state fear that the bill introduced by Congressman Andrews, granting to the state arid lands for reclamation by irrigation canals, conceals a clause by which large tracts may be secured by cattle companies to the detriment of settlers. It provides that all lands not suitable for irrigation may be sold or leased by the state under such regulations as may be provided.

Fifteen Cubans Court-Martialed.

Havana, March 23.—General Bernal attacked the insurgents in an entrenched position on a coffee plantation of Estrella, near Cienega, in Matanzas. By the use of artillery and cavalry he dislodged them, securing fifteen prisoners. The insurgents carried off many dead and wounded. The prisoners were court-martialed and shot.

May Be Protruded April 25.

Ottawa, Ont., March 23.—The government has announced that it is the intention to ask the house not to remain in session after April 25. This is a triumph for the opposition, as up to the present the government supporters have contended that parliament would not adjourn until June 3.

We have broken the record of all previous attempts, by placing the Lynettes on the mar'e for five cents

JUDGE LYNCH OUT IN DEAD OF NIGHT

TENNESSEE MOB EXECUTES A MURDERER.

William Murphy Taken From Jail at Huntsville and Strung Up to a Tree—Indianapolis Authorities After Ringleaders in a Riot—Turbulent District Patrolled By Police.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 23.—A mob took William Murphy from the jail at Huntsville, Tenn., at midnight Saturday and strung him to a tree. The villagers knew nothing of it until the body was found hanging from a honey locust tree in the morning. William Murphy was in jail awaiting trial for the murder of Bill Knowlin, a miner, three weeks ago at Pioneer, in Campbell county, which adjoins Scott county, in which the lynching occurred. About thirty mountaineers with handkerchiefs tied over their faces did the lynching. The leader wore no disguise, but seemed to be a stranger. He knocked on the door, awakened Jailer C. C. Ellis, representing that he was a deputy sheriff with a prisoner he wanted to lock up. As the jailer opened the door he was covered with a large army pistol and the keys demanded. He refused to surrender the keys. The mountaineers drew revolvers on the jailer's frightened wife and daughter and they got the keys and gave them to the mob. Murphy was found praying for mercy. He begged hard for his life, but if they would kill him he begged not to be dragged or choked to death. He was roughly dragged out and hanged to the nearest tree. Murphy and his victim were both miners. Murphy leaves a widow and several children at Junction City, Ky. Huntsville is near the Kentucky line.

Indianapolis Rioters in Jail.

Indianapolis, March 23.—The authorities are showing activity in running down the ringleaders in the riot Saturday night, and nine arrests have been made, six of them non-union molders and three belonging to the striking faction. The non-unionists are held for shooting with intent to kill and for inciting to riot, and owing to the dangerous condition of Davis Walker, one of the wounded men, bail is refused. The unionists are charged with inciting to riot. Sunday the turbulent district was closely patrolled by the police, but there were no disturbances.

UNITED AGAINST MCKINLEY.

Important Conference of Leaders Held at Washington Sunday.

Washington, March 23.—As a result of an anti-McKinley conference held here Sunday and attended by the friends of all the other candidates, an effort is to be made to invade the state of Ohio and to beat Major McKinley in several of the districts of his own state. Senator Cullom told the members of the conference he would stay in the race to the end, no matter if only half a dozen delegates supported him.

The members of the conference agreed that they could control the national republican committee, and in this way make up a temporary roll of the convention to please themselves. They believe they will also have control of the delegations from a majority of the states and territories, and thus be able to dominate the committee on credentials, which will have to pass upon from 125 to 150 contested seats. The friends of the various candidates pledge themselves to stand together and make common cause against Major McKinley. It is agreed that from this time on the war is to be carried into Africa.

Davis May Withdraw.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—It is stated that the republicans who have been foremost in pushing Senator Davis as a candidate for president will immediately take steps to get him to withdraw. The returns are all in from the counties of Minnesota, and the figures show that Davis is sure of but two delegates of the eighteen—those of the Fourth congressional district—and his friends believe it would be better for Davis to withdraw than to wait for the state convention on Tuesday. It is known that over 700 of the delegates to the state convention are for McKinley, and will select a McKinley delegate-at-large. The Fifth congressional district has already selected McKinley delegates, and the Second, Third, Sixth and Seventh districts will follow suit. This leaves Davis only the two delegates of the Fourth district, and a fighting chance for those in the First.

Renewed Demonstrations at Barcelona.

Barcelona, March 23.—A renewed manifestation of the emotional spirits of the citizens of this town was made Sunday, though no hostile demonstration was attempted against the United States consulate, as on previous occasions. A crowd of 5,000 persons gathered, excitedly cheering for Spain, Weyler and Cuba. The American consulate and the chief thoroughfares of the city were guarded by gendarmes as a precautionary measure.

May Inaugurate an Eight-Hour Day.

Indianapolis, March 23.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor meets here today, continuing in session several days. One of the chief things to be considered is the advisability of inaugurating an eight-hour day for some of the trades on the 1st of May.

LORD SALISBURY ON THE SIDE OF PEACE

THE BRITISH PREMIER TALKS OF ARBITRATION.

Good Prospect of Settling the Venezuelan Dispute Amicably—Soudan Expedition Will Be Pushed Forward—Russia and France Still Protest—Duel Between Italian Statesmen.

London, March 23.—Lord Salisbury has sent a reply to the memorial in favor of Anglo-American arbitration of the Venezuelan question adopted by the Peace society at a meeting in Queen's hall. The reply is addressed to the Rt.-Hon. James Stansfield, ex-member of parliament, who presided at the meeting. Lord Salisbury says: "I am glad to be able to inform you that this question is receiving the consideration of the government and that proposals in the direction indicated by the memorial are now before the government of the United States."

The Daily News (liberal) has an editorial on Lord Salisbury's reply to the memorial of the Peace association for arbitration of the Venezuelan dispute, in which it says:

"Lord Salisbury's letter is the most hopeful word we have had for a long time from the premier. We hope that it portends a definite clearing of the international situation in one of the stormiest quarters. We may even dream that it will presage a new and brighter era in the world's history."

The Chronicle, also liberal, echoes the Daily News's hopes that the United States will reciprocate our good will. "If so," the Chronicle adds, "there is no need to trouble ourselves further about Venezuela."

RUSSIA SUPPORTS FRANCE.

Takes the Same View of the Dongola Expedition.

London, March 23.—A Vienna dispatch to the Times says: "Russia supports the French view of the Dongola expedition."

The Paris correspondent of the Times, commenting upon bogus telegrams published by the French newspapers, which are intended to excite public feeling on the Egyptian question, declares that France is repeating the mistake she made in 1882, upon the occasion of the bombardment of Alexandria and the occupation of Egypt by the British.

The Standard has a dispatch from Cairo which says: "There are already 6,000 troops at Wady Halfa, but there is no intention of marching upon Dongola until they have 10,000 troops."

The French ambassador, Baron de Courcel, had a long interview with Lord Salisbury at the latter's residence on Sunday. The conference is supposed to have dealt with the subject of the Nile expedition. An official visit by an ambassador on Sunday to the private residence of the minister of foreign affairs is an unusual occurrence, and this leads to the supposition that the subject of Baron de Courcel's call was an important one.

An Odessa dispatch to the Daily News says: "The Novoe Vremya and the Novosti admit that England has a mission to protect the Nile valley, and that Dongola, Kassala and Berber, the three keys to the Soudan, must eventually fall into England's hands."

LEAVE FOR THE FRONT.

British Expedition into the Soudan Is Begun in Earnest.

Cairo, March 23.—Sir H. H. Kitchner, brigadier-general of the Egyptian forces, and Slatin Pasha have started for the front to assume direction of the Nile expedition.

Massowah, March 23.—A force of 600 dervishes attacked Sabderat pass on March 8. It was defended by eighty native troops, and the enemy was defeated and fled, leaving forty-one killed. The Italian loss was three killed. March 18, 1,500 dervishes renewed the attack, but they were repulsed four times with heavy loss. Three thousand dervishes are still threatening the pass, and re-enforcements have been dispatched from Kassala.

Duel Between Italian Statesmen.

Rome, March 23.—A duel has occurred between Gen. Mocanni, minister of war in the Crispi cabinet, and Sig. Barzalai, arising out of a sharp personal altercation which took place in the chamber of deputies Saturday regarding the recall of Gen. Baratieri from Abyssinia. Sig. Barzalai was wounded in the left cheek as a result of the duel.

Wants $5,000,000 Indemnity.

Rome, March 23.—The Tribuna says that the Negus Menelek demands an indemnity of $5,000,000 in gold.

The Weekly Bank Statement.

New York, March 23.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Reserve, decrease, $2,406,150; loans, increase, $999,400; specie, decrease, $2,329,800; legal tenders, decrease, $514,200; deposits, decrease, $1,751,400; circulation, decrease, $36,800. The banks now hold $19,042,675 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent rule.

If you have money to burn, smoke Lynettes cigar.

TWENTY FOR MCKINLEY.

The Balance of Tennessee's Delegates May Be for Reed.

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—Tennessee will have twenty-four votes in the St. Louis convention, and it is claimed that of the twenty-four twenty will be cast for McKinley. Two districts, it is conceded, are doubtful, and each of these is likely to nominate a Reed man. Allison has a number of friends in the state, but in no district is his following sufficiently strong to give him a delegate. The convention to choose delegates for the state at large will meet at Nashville April 22.

The state democratic executive committee meets here today, and the session is attended by many prominent members of the party, including Senator Harris and Congressman Richardson, McDearmon, Cox and McMillan. The only question of importance is the calling of one or two conventions, the bulk of the free silver democrats wanting only one convention for all purposes.

Personal Contest in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—Henry U. Johnson, the member of congress from the 6th Indiana district, has arrived at his home in Richmond. He has come back to his district to settle an account with James E. Watson, who was elected a member of the present congress from the 4th district, and who, by the recent reapportionment, was thrown into Johnson's district, and who is now trying to take the nomination from Johnson. Watson is billed to speak twelve times in Henry county this week and Johnson has arranged to go into the same county and make an equal number of speeches. He has challenged Watson to meet him on the platform at any time and place agreeable to Watson. The challenge has not yet been accepted.

Watson and his friends deny that they originated the slanders that have been circulated against Johnson in this district. A personal encounter between the two men would not be surprising.

Files Claim Against Ramsay Estate.

Carlyle, Ill., March 23.—The state filed a claim Saturday against the estate of Rufus N. Ramsay. Ramsay was one of the sureties on the bond of James D. Baker of Lebanon, who was warden of the southern Illinois state penitentiary. He also had charge of the state hospital for the criminal insane. Both institutions are located at Chester. A similar claim has been filed against Seiter, proprietor of the defunct Lebanon bank, he being also one of the sureties. At the time of Baker's resignation his accounts show a deficit of $11,750 in the penitentiary accounts and a deficit of $6,143 in the asylum accounts. The deficit was caused by the failure of the Seiter bank, Baker having deposited $18,000 with that concern.

Conference Between Capital and Labor.

Chicago, March 23.—A conference meeting of national importance between representatives of capital and labor will begin in the city to-morrow morning. The organizations interested are the Stove-Founders' National Defense association and the Iron-Molders' Union of North America. The conference is for the purpose of discussing wages and working rules and signing an agreement to govern the molding of stoves in all sections of the country during the year. The agreement will run until April 1, 1897.

South Dakota Republican Convention.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 23.—The state convention to nominate delegates to St. Louis will be held in Huron Wednesday. The prospect is for a lively struggle, but it is highly probable that the delegation will be instructed for Major McKinley, while the money question will be ignored. In case the latter is handled the delegation will be opposed to free silver. The republican party in this state is divided on the question and it is difficult to tell in what proportions, the factions being nearly evenly divided.

Prominent Theosophist Dead.

New York, March 23.—William Q. Judge, president of the Theosophical society in America, died in this city Saturday. He had been, since the death of Mme. Blavatsky, the most conspicuous theosophist in this country. He had been ailing for more than two years, and this morning he succumbed to an affection of the lungs, which change of climate had failed to cure.

Says Iowa Is for Sound Money.

Albia, Iowa, March 23.—Senator T. B. Perry says the democratic party of Iowa will declare for sound money at the Ottumwa convention, and that a solid sound money delegation will be sent to the Chicago convention from Iowa. The executive committee meets today, and the indications are that Mr. Perry will control it. The silver forces will bolt if a sound money policy is inaugurated.

Ex-Gov. Thayer Improving.

Omaha, Neb., March 23.—A dispatch from Lincoln says Gen. John M. Thayer is resting easy, and there is some chance of recovery. He sat up a short time Sunday, and discussed politics with his friends.

Half a Michigan Town Burned.

Berrien Springs, Mich., March 23.—A fire which nearly wiped out the business portion of this city occurred Sunday morning. Seven buildings, including the postoffice, and stores were burned. The loss is $25,000; insurance, $1,000.

AGED WOMAN DIES AT MANITOWOC

MRS. CHARLOTTE MILLEA PASSES AWAY.

She Was One Hundred and Five Years Old, But Did Her Household Work Up to the Day Before She Died—Other State Specials.

Manitowoc, Wis., March 23.—[Special].—Mrs. Charlotte Milles, aged one hundred and five years, died this morning. She had performed her household duties until the day before her death.

The famous Shove bank case comes up for trial at Oshkosh tomorrow. A year ago Shove went to Minneapolis but had to return and give an account of his affairs.

Assemblyman's Wife Suicides

Eau Claire, Wis., March 23.—[Special].—Mrs. Syver E. Briml, wife of ex-Assemblyman Briml, committed suicide this morning by hanging herself on a beam in the barn. She had been in poor health for some time and leaves a large family.

RELIEF FOR BANKS.

Treasury Plan to Remove Stringency in Western Money Market.

Washington, March 23.—An important step to relieve the growing stringency in the money market in the west has been decided upon at the treasury department. Reports from western banks have indicated that rates for money were climbing upward, and that the banks in some cases were paying 7 and 8 per cent for loans between themselves. The western banks are to be allowed to hold a little larger percentage in money of the bonds which they intrust to the treasury to secure public deposits than they have heretofore been allowed. These deposits, at the close of last week, were $15,021,668. The policy was adopted about a year ago of calling in 10 per cent of these deposits with the banks, in order to contract the redundant circulation, and this 10 per cent will now be restored. The money is not in any case transferred from the treasury to the banks, but is covered into the banks by internal revenue collectors and other public officers for the convenience of the service. The change of policy simply contemplates the accumulation of these funds to a slightly larger amount before they are called into the treasury.

AFTER PACIFIC ROADS.

Chauncey Depew and Vanderbilt Go to California.

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—Col. C. F. Crocker, of the Southern Pacific, has received a telegram from Chauncey M. Depew, stating that Mr. Vanderbilt and he are coming to California. The visit, together with the fact that J. B. Dutcher, one of the directors of the New York Central, and Daniel B. McCoy, one of the officers of that road, are already here, has caused considerable gossip as to whether or not the trip is one of business or pleasure. The visit of Vanderbilt and Depew is regarded as tending to confirm the stories that they intended to buy the Central and Union Pacific roads in case the government should foreclose. Col. Crocker says that so far as he knows Vanderbilt and Depew are simply on pleasure bent. They will spend a few days in Southern California and will return east over the Central and Southern Pacific roads.

TO BAR CONSUMPTIVES.

Government Proposes to Keep Them Out of New Zealand.

London, March 23.—Regarding the bill prepared by the government of New Zealand for the exclusion of consumptives from that colony has been received here. It is framed on the lines of the present legislation excluding persons suffering from leprosy, smallpox and other contagious disorders, except that it imposes an extremely heavy penalty upon captains of ships bringing consumptives to port, whether knowingly or unwittingly. This law, if passed, will compel the captains, as a matter of self-defense, to require all intending passengers from American, English or Asiatic ports to provide themselves with medical certificates showing that they are neither consumptives nor exhibit any tendencies of being so afflicted.

MINERS ARE RESTLESS.

Probability of a Strike in Illinois and Indiana This Summer.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—James O'Connor, state president of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, has arrived here from the southern Illinois coal fields, where he has been investigating the coal situation. He states the men are being underpaid and the scale of prices adopted at a state meeting here some time since is being worked under to a great extent. In many places the miners do not get more than two or three days' work each week, at the lowest wages ever paid. He will go to Danville, where he will meet George W. Purcell, president of the Indiana Miners' Federation, with a view of securing a raise in prices of mining coal for both states. A general strike is not improbable in Illinois and Indiana this summer.

JOHN J. R. PEASE CALLED TO REST

DEATH OCCURRED AT HIS HOME YESTERDAY.

Signal Services He Had Rendered in this City—Helped to Build the First Railroad—His Interest in Education—Sketch of His Well Spent Life.

The Hon. John J. R. Pease died on Sunday, March 22, at 6:55 a. m. Mr. Pease was born at Enfield, Conn., on the 25th of June, 1817. His father, Judge Lorrain T. Pease, was the fifth in descent from John Pease, who founded the town of Enfield, and his mother, Sarah Marshall, was lineally descended from Captain Samuel Marshall who commanded the Windsor company in the famous Swamp Fight with the Indians under King Philip, where he was killed at the head of his troops. Mr. Pease was educated in Connecticut and employed in the post office at Hartford till about twenty-three years of age, at which time he accompanied his father, who had been appointed receiver of public money at the land office in Green Bay, in the then territory of Wisconsin, since which time Mr. Pease has been a resident of Wisconsin, except for two years during which he was employed in a government position in Washington. Mr. Pease moved to Janesville in 1843, since which time the history of his life can be read in all the important events that have led to the building up of the city for more than one-half a century. No man has been more closely or more prominently identified with every good movement.

He had been many times favored by the people with offices of distinction and trust. He was assemblyman at an early day, several times elected supervisor and alderman and was mayor of the city in 1856. He was interested in many important business interests having been at one time director and attorney of the O. & N. W. Ry., and for many years up to the time of his death a trustee of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Milwaukee. He assisted at the organization of the Rock county Bank and for many years an office and director of that institution. During his early life he had been educated as a surveyor and after moving to Janesville he surveyed nearly all the old part of the city and most of the county. He studied law in the office of the late Judge Whiton and was admitted to the bar in 1848, after which he continued in the practice of his profession till within a few years. He was one of the organizers of Christ church and for many years a warden in that society. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and at the time of his death was the oldest member of that order in the city. In politics he was a democrat during the early part of his manhood; but on the organization of the republican party he left the democratic party and assisted in organizing that new party which was to bring about the liberation of the slaves. He stayed with that party until 1872, since which time he has affiliated with the democratic party. He was active in the support of the war, having been one of the committee of three which raised the Thirtieth Wisconsin regiment; and all during that trying time he contributed liberally of both his time and money in support of the cause in which he so firmly believed. In June, 1851, Mr. Pease married Miss Cornelia Ruger, daughter of Rev. Thomas J. Ruger, first rector of Trinity church.

He leaves three daughters. Mrs. W. M. Eldredge; Miss Mary Pease; and Mrs. C. E. Pierce; and one sister, Mrs. Hamilton Richardson. While Mr. Pease's influence has been widely felt in the public affairs of this city, it was in his private relations that the strongest and most admirable traits of his character were to be observed. While he had all the strength of opinion, all the steadfastness in religious belief, and all the persistency of purpose that comes of generations of New England ancestry and New England training, he also had the breadth of mind, the tolerance of opposition and the gentleness of manner that mark the educated, true-hearted gentleman of today. A man of remarkable memory he loved to dwell upon the early history of his country and of this north-west territory and his information on these subjects was such as to astonish everyone. Thoroughly democratic in thought and action he recognized in men only those differences that mark the true man from the false. Kindly and gentle by nature, his charity was not only of the hand but also of the heart. He leaves with his friends and neighbors the memory of a good man and with his family the recollection of a loving husband and father. During the last hours of his illness he seemed to live over again those days of young manhood when with rod and level he ran the dividing lines through forest and over prairie. He again had a line to run which he said "ran down to the sea." He repeatedly asked "Am I on the line?" He was indeed on the line, he whose whole life had been along the line of rectitude and that line ran down to that great sea where no good action is ever lost and no good life is ever forgotten and where the widening and ever widening circles carry the influence of a good man to the furthest shores of eternity.

The Rock County Biographical Album gives some additional details concerning Mr. Pease's long and useful life, as follows:

Mr. Pease was born in Enfield, Conn., June 25, 1817, of the New England Puritan stock. His father, Judge Lorrain T. Pease, was a lineal descendant of Robert Pease, of England, who settled in Salem, Mass., in 1634. His mother, Sarah Marshall, was a lineal descendant of Thomas Marshall, of England, who became a resident of Boston, Mass., in 1634, and was for many years a deacon of the first organized church society of that town, and also a descendant from Captain Samuel Marshall, a son of said Thomas, who led the Connecticut Colonists in the bloody but victorious assault upon the fort of the Narragansett Indians, on the 19th day of December, 1675, in which engagement he and a large number of other brave men "died in the bed of honor," as recorded in the annals of New England. The grandfather of Mr. Pease on both the paternal and the maternal sides, served in the Revolutionary Army.

Lived Here Many Years.

The residence of Mr. Pease in Wisconsin dates back to 1840. For over three years he resided in Green Bay, spending his time as a law student and as clerk in the United States land office, while he also engaged in the survey of government lands. In the winter of 1833-4 he reported for the Argus newspaper of Madison, the proceedings of the lower house of the territorial legislature. About the first of February, 1844, Mr. Pease settled in Janesville, and for a few months was a student in the law office of Hon. E. V. Whiton. During the summer of 1844, much, much against his will, the law books were laid aside and for two years his time was given to surveying, there being a great rush of new settlers into Janesville and the surrounding country, who wanted work in that line, and Mr. Pease was the only person available and experienced in such work, or who would undertake it. In 1846, at the beginning of the Mexican war, he was tendered a clerkship in the Navy office at Washington, which offer he accepted and remained in that position until the close of the war. He returned to Janesville, and was soon after admitted to the bar, since which time he has continued in the practice of law.

Was Married In 1851.

On the 14th day of July, 1851, Mr. Pease was united in marriage with Miss Cornelia Ruger, a daughter of Rev. Thomas J. Ruger, deceased, late of Janesville.

From the early days of his settlement Mr. Pease has been identified with the moral, educational, social and business interests of Rock County. Religiously he is a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal church, to which his parents also belonged. In politics he was a Jeffersonian democrat, and was elected by the people to various town, city and county offices. Of the public schools Mr. Pease has always been a friend and supporter. In 1844, when he became a resident of Janesville, there was an angry contest going on about the erection of a public school house. He favored the project. The friends of schools prevailed and the house was built. No other public school house was constructed in Janesville until during the years 1856 and 1857 when Mr. Pease was mayor of the city.

The "Old Academy" Opened. In that year two large school buildings were erected and a contract entered into for the building of the present high school. The site was a grant from Rock county to the city, conditioned for the location of a school thereon, and the common council accepted the grant and made the location. The responsibility of accepting the grant and deciding upon the location was with the common council. In 1844 Mr. Pease was one of many citizens to contribute funds toward the establishment of the Janesville Academy. It had a wide reputation, and was under the charge, at different periods of time, of such men as Rev. T. J. Ruger, Hon. Levi Alden and others.

The first railroad to enter Janesville was constructed by the corporation now known as the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Company, and was built from Milton to Janesville, occupying the line of the Southern Wisconsin Railway Company, and was opened about January 1, 1853. As an inducement for obtaining the road a few of the citizens of Janesville raised a bonus in cash, which was paid to the company constructing the road.

Helped the City Financially. Mr. Pease was active in promoting the project and contributed more than a reasonable share of the bonus required. The city of Janesville the same year issued and delivered to the Southern Wisconsin Railway Company $50,000 of eight per cent bonds, running twenty years, to further aid in the extension of the road west from Janesville to a point on the Mississippi River. Not long after this the two companies were consolidated into one. At that time ex-Governor Dewey was president of the Southern Wisconsin Company; Mr. Pease its secretary; and Messrs. Pease, Dewey, Ernest, Knowlton and Stewart the directors. All claims against the Wisconsin Company were paid, as agreed, by the newly consolidated company. Mr. Pease, for his services as secretary and director of the Southern Wisconsin Railway Company, was enabled to recover the city bonds, before mentioned, with the interest coupons attached, amounting to $130,000, which he immediately transferred to the city of Janesville, and by the common council they were accepted, canceled and destroyed. Thus so great a debt of the city was extinguished without any cost whatever.

Helped Organize the Bank.

Mr. Pease was interested in the establishment of the Rock County National Bank of Janesville, which was at first organized as a state bank in 1855. He drew up its articles of association and obtained among the citizens a subscription for the amount of capital stock required to found the bank on a secure and working basis. At its organization he was elected vice president of the company, serving in that capacity for ten years, and was also a member of the board of directors. In the month of October, 1855, he became a director in the Chicago, St. Paul & Fond du Lac Railroad company, and for twelve years was an active working member of that board, filling the position after the above mentioned road had become a part of the property of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company. He was also a director of the Land Grant Railroad Company, known as the Wisconsin & Superior Company, until its consolidation with the Northwestern Company. During the years of 1853 and 1854, the city of Janesville delivered to the Rock River Valley Union Railroad Company $87,000 in bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest, running twenty years, the company agreeing to pay the interest and principal of the same.

Saved the City Money.

But the company became bankrupt after having disposed of the bonds, and the interest was not paid. The validity of this issue of bonds was much questioned, but men of responsibility considered them good and believed that eventually the courts would hold the bonds to have been lawfully issued. In the work of arranging this difficulty the hand of Mr. Pease was also seen. As the agent of the city he was authorized and empowered to compromise with the holders of these bonds and obtain a return of the same on the best possible terms for the city. Seventy six of the bonds, with interest coupons attached, were secured by him and transferred to the city and afterwards by the common council canceled and destroyed. The amount of city debt extinguished thereby was nearly $200,000 at a cost less than five per cent of that sum.

In the manufacturing interests of the community Mr. Pease has also been an active promoter. For a quarter of a century he has been one of the trustees of the Oak Hill Cemetery Association and for several years served as its president, and for twenty-eight years has been one of the trustees of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee.

Funeral of Mrs. J. H. Ball.

All that was mortal of Mrs. J. H. Ball was laid to rest at Oak Hill cemetery this afternoon. The funeral services were held at the home, 208 South Franklin street, at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Wotton, rector of Trinity church, officiating. Mrs. Ball's death, brief mention of which was made Saturday afternoon at her late home Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and when her spirit took its flight, a patiently borne illness that had extended over a period of two months, came to an end. Mrs. Ball had made Janesville her home for forty years, and during that time she had become widely known and universally loved and respected. Her maiden name was Margaret B. West. She had been a member of Trinity church for many years, and had always been an exemplification of Christian steadfastness. Her husband, who survives her, will have the sympathy of all Janesville people in his great affliction.

Funeral of Mrs. James F. Ennis.

The funeral of the late Mrs. James F. Ennis was held Saturday at Brodhead. Rev. Father Buckley celebrated mass. The interment was in the Albany cemetery. The pall bearers were James Langdon, James Meehan, James Ward, Timothy Kelly, Daniel Ennis and John Horan.

Mrs. Patience Horne.

Mrs. Patience Horne, formerly of this city, mother of Conductor Levi Horne, formerly of this city, but now of Waukesha, Wis., died in Maine and the burial will probably be made here. There will be no funeral, but the remains will be taken directly to the cemetery.

CHURCHES.

CONGREGATIONAL. A large and appreciative congregation listened to Rev. S. P. Wilder's discourse on "The Christian Life as a Transformed Life."

Christian Life as a Transformed Life. Rom 12, 1, 2. "This chapter is addressed to believers, to those, who have felt the cleansing touch of Christ, whose motives forces and ideals have been changed. Not especially to those who are church members or Christians in name, but to all who are truly endeavoring to follow Christ. It plainly teaches that the Christian should not conform his life to worldly standards. His ideas of right and wrong must not be governed by what the world thinks, but rather by Christ's teaching. The Christian life must be a life growing from within, transforming the ambitions, aims, and purposes; not only powerful to guide that person, but influencing public opinion. It should elevate and broaden the intellect so that one will enjoy and care to participate only in the things that make far better and purer living. Giving must become more a real part of the Christian life. Another need is in the line of the Christian pressures in speaking of cards and the modern society dance. Mr. Wilder said he was not there to condemn, to judge or to reproach, but to question. Many whom he loved indulged in these things, he wished to plead with them to answer these questions to themselves, to think of them as coming from Christ, were he standing before them. Does playing cards or dancing glorify God? Do these pleasures help the cause of God more than hinder it? Does the time spent, so many, many hours, bring you nearer to God? It is in the ball room your most holy aspirations and longings come? Are the lives of the ladies who spend afternoon after afternoon at the card table more helpful as Christians? Is their influence larger and sweeter because of the time thus spent? He asked, with all the earnestness he could command, speaking from the very depth of his heart, "Can we as Christians, as a church, afford to identify ourselves with these institutions that wreck so many lives; that nip in the bud the aspirations of so large a number of our young Christians? Never was the world so hungry for Christ and His helplessness; never was the need of a church which is not conformed to the world so great as at present. She needs transforming in her money matters; Christians spend five times as much for luxuries for self gratification as for Christ."

The union meeting of the Ladies' Home and Foreign Missionary Society will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. Beldon, 211 South Academy street.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilder leave Tuesday for Fort Atkinson and Beloit, returning Saturday to spend the time until the following Tuesday with their Janesville friends.

BAPTIST. "It is essential to vegetable life that the plant be rooted in the ground, and only can the soul enjoy true life by being rooted in Christ Jesus." So said Rev. F. J. Coffin in his sermon at the Baptist church yesterday morning, his text being Col. 2:6-7. Being rooted in Christ, the natural sequence is that we be built up in Him and established in the faith. The text of the evening sermon was John 6:68. "Lord, to Whom Shall we Go? Thou Hast the Words of Eternal Life." He said that in disappointment and sorrow none but Christ can satisfy, and that without Him our lives would be fitly described by the words of Disraeli, "Youth is a blunder, manhood a struggle, old age a regret."

THE CHRISTIAN. The Christian Endeavor meeting was held by Miss Luella Davey, the topic being "Diligent in Business." A pleasant feature of the evening was the singing from memory of old familiar hymns.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

THE "WHEEL" SEASON" OPENS UP

Several Janesville Riders Took Their First Spins Yesterday.

Yesterday was the first "cycling day of the season, and although the roads were in poor condition there were more cyclists on the street than any time this year. No long trips were made. Two wheelmen started out for Beloit but willingly gave the task up after having covered a distance of three miles.

One local firm has disposed of seven wheels so far this season, which fact they think is a sign that business will be rushing later.

F. Randall has moved his bicycle establishment from his Glen street home to the basement in the Woodstock block on West Milwaukee street today.

Three tandems are now on the Janesville market and more are to follow.

A novelty in the bicycle line will soon be shown the Janesville public in the shape of a "sextuplet"—that is a "bicycle built for six". The machine is of the Fowler make and is the only one in this part of the country. It has been on exhibition throughout the east and is expected here in three weeks—for one day only.

WHERE HAS THE RIVER GONE?

Dr. Horne Tells of Days When It Amounted To Something.

Rock river, where is it? Its gone. Where? Who can say? It is three feet lower than in thirty-five years excepting last year. The water usually has been more than three feet higher below the dam. When the foundation for the court house was being dug, the water was nearly six feet higher than now. When the late S. J. M. Putnam was sheriff, Charley, Ed. and other boys used to have a raft the length of Water street, now Park street. I remember killing a pickerel twenty inches long, where Van Etta's barn now stands, with a pitch-fork. The Putnam boys ran it in their pursuit of minnows and in shallow water it grounded. Good bye old Rock river. DR. WM. HORNE.

Sheriff Appleby Called to Evict a Tenant Who Wouldn't Go.

Sheriff W. H. Appleby "oustet" James Nevals from the farm of Edwin Keyes, Saturday afternoon. The farm is located two miles from Afton, and Keyes claims that after he purchased the piece Nevals refused to vacate. Keyes then applied to the circuit court and was given the necessary documents to cause Neval's removal. The papers were placed in the hands of Sheriff Appleby. When the officer made his appearance Nevals was inclined to show fight, but changed his mind and quietly left while Keyes took possession.

CLINTON PEOPLE HAD A SCARE

Another Alarm of Fire Started Them at Night—Loss Was Small.

The people of Clinton were again aroused by the alarm of fire which was discovered by Nightwatchman A. Baldwin at 1:30 o'clock in the morning Saturday. It proved to be the smokehouse on the premises of William Bruce, a quarter of a mile southeast and just outside of the village limits. The fire was caused by a strong wind fanning the coals which were in the smokehouse. It was extinguished with small loss.

MANY THOUSANDS

Vitally Interested in the New Discovery.

Whereby Nine-Tenths of the American People Will Be Benefited.

A Brief Account of It.

A man or woman with perfect digestion, the result of a healthy stomach, has no need of a nerve tonic to bring sleep, nor sarsaparilla to purify their blood, nor cod liver oil and pre-digested foods to make them fat. Why? Because a sound stomach perfectly digests the food, making pure, rich blood, steady nerves, sound sleep and all the healthy flesh a person needs to carry.

Dr. Bostwick recently stated that anyone out of health, nervous, sleepless, run down in flesh, with poor appetite, not knowing just what was the matter of them, should look to their digestion, to the stomach, and there would find the secret of the whole trouble. He says nine out of ten will have no nervous troubles, no impure blood, no weakness anywhere when the digestive organs do their work properly. To cure indigestion and dyspepsia he never advises "sarsaparilla," "stomach bitters," "pre-digested food" or any other secret patent medicine. He says the best thing, the safest and surest cure is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they are composed of vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth and will cure dyspepsia in every case if taken persistently and regularly. Some of the cures made by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are little short of miraculous.

Mrs. Charlotte Lane, of Ransomville, N. Y., writes: I have taken only one 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and am almost astonished at results. I have benefited me so greatly. I have always understood that dyspepsia was incurable, but now know it can be cured, for I am fully satisfied with what they have done for me. I can eat and enjoy my meals a great deal better and feel better in every way and have only used one package.

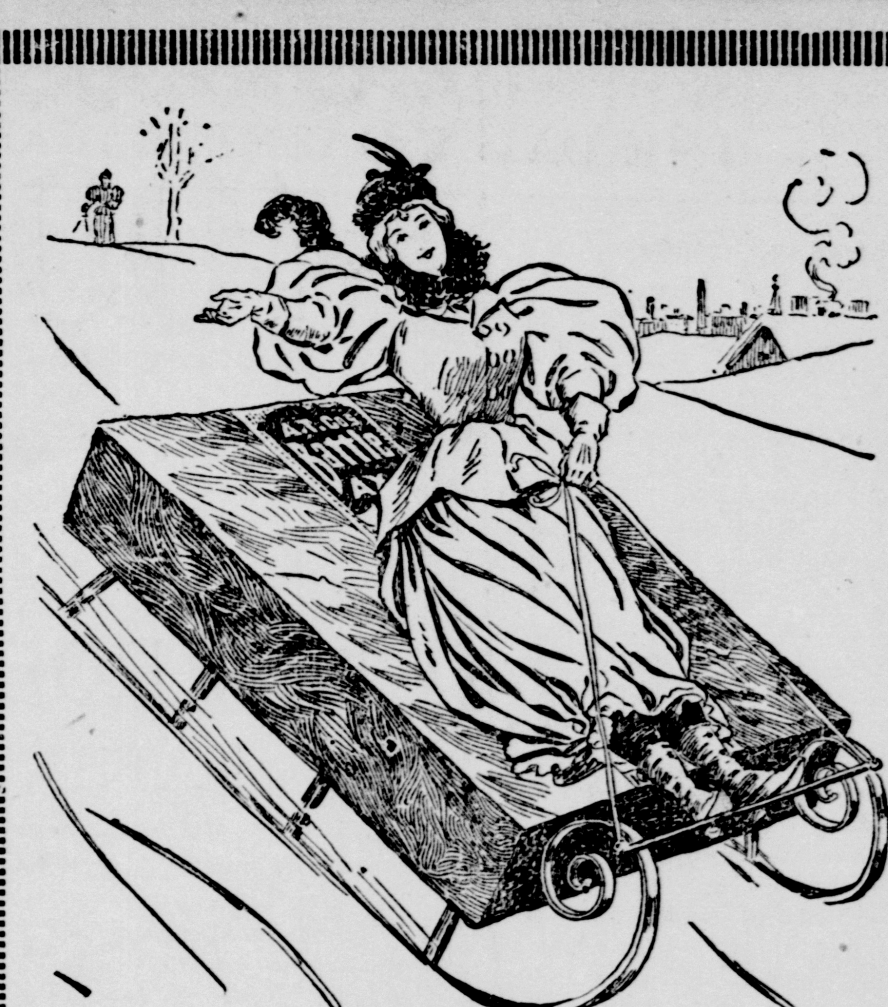

Mr. J. O. Wondy, of Peoria, Ill., writes: I was unable to eat anything but the plainest food, and even that often distressed me, but since using one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I can eat anything and everything I want.

Mrs. Samuel Kepple, of Girty, Pa., writes: I have been entirely relieved of my stomach troubles by your Tablets. I suffered three years with sour stomach and gas at night. I am thankful for them.

Mrs. A. E. Bowen, Barnard, Vt., writes: I think Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best thing for dyspepsia I ever took. I will recommend them to anyone troubled as bad as I was.

Although a new remedy, yet its remarkable success in all kinds of stomach troubles has practically settled the question that it is the best and safest remedy that can be used for weak or disordered digestion.

It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere at 50 cts. per package, thus placing it within the reach of everyone wishing to give a remedy so highly commended a fair trial.

"A very smooth article."

Meet in New York Tuesday.

New York, March 23.—Politicians from all points of the state are gathering in this city to attend the republican state convention which convenes at the Grand Central palace Tuesday. The convention will be called to order by Chairman Odell of the republican state committee. He will announce as the temporary chairman Senator Cornelius Parsons of Rochester. A McKinley mass-meeting has been arranged for tonight, and it is understood that there is a movement on foot to turn the last session of the convention into a mass meeting in honor of Gov. Morton's presidential candidacy.

Instructed to Vote for Quay.

Stroudsburg, Pa., March 23.—The Monroe county republicans Saturday elected Dr. Thomas C. Walton delegate to the St. Louis convention, and instructed him to vote for Quay. There was a strong McKinley sentiment.

The dyspeptic carries a dreadful load on his back. It seems as if he were really made up of two men. One of them ambitious, brainy and energetic; the other sick, listless, peevish and without force.

The weak man weighs the other one down. The dyspeptic may be able to do pretty good work one day, and the next day because of some little indiscretion in eating, he may be able to do nothing at all. Most cases of dyspepsia start with constipation. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all human sickness. Some of its symptoms are sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, foul breath, windy belchings, heartburn, pain and distress after eating. All these are indicative of derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, and all are caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the quickest, easiest and most certain cure for this condition. They are not violent in action.

LOCAL Y. M. C. A. IS IN THE BIG LEAGUE

THE JANESVILLE ASSOCIATION TAKES MEMBERSHIP.

Delegation Will Attend the Annual Meeting at Lake Geneva July 25 and 26—Many Benefits Will Be Had—New Physical Director Takes Hold.

The Janesville Y. M. C. A. will send a delegation of "picked athletes" and a delegate to the annual meeting of the Athletic League of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America, which will convene at Lake Geneva July 25 and 26. Secretary J. O. Kline, who was in Chicago last week, attended a business meeting of the Athletic League, and was so impressed with the outline of the work that he soon arranged to have the local association represented.

"Joining the Athletic League will make the Janesville association stronger in every way," he said. "It will give us the benefit of rates on all gymnasium appliances, and be of benefit otherwise."

The Gymnasium Classes.

Classes in the gymnasium will be continued as usual, with the new physical director, S. S. Dixon in charge. Mr. Dixon arrived in the city Saturday night, and is ready to take up the work as it has been carried on in the past. No changes in schedule of classes will be made unless it appears best. Hereafter those taking exercise may be examined by the physical director in order to learn the kind of exercise and development they individually need. A chart will be given each man when examined so marked, that he may know for himself where he is weak and can make his gymnasium work tend to the strengthening of his body in such particulars. It will be simple, so that all can understand, and will be of the utmost importance in making the gymnasium work tell in benefit to those taking the same.

Wednesday, Ladies Day

Owing to the numbers who desire to witness the class work and the basket ball games, and in view of the limited capacity of the gymnasium gallery, the gymnasium committee are compelled to make a rule limiting the admission of ladies as spectators of the classes and games. Hereafter Wednesdays will be the only day on which ladies will be admitted to the gallery and on these days they will be given the preference. It is hoped that before long another gallery may be placed in the gymnasium so that all who wish to come may find room, but until such extra facilities are provided an arrangement as above is the only way out.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNED.

Action Taken in Honor of Hon. John J. R. Pease.

The circuit court, on motion of Judge L. F. Patten, out of respect for the memory of the late John J. R. Pease, an old and honored member of the bar of this city, adjourned until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

MRS. GRAVELAND GETS A DIVORCE

Freed From Her Husband on the Grounds of Cruelty.

Fannie H. Graveland was today granted a divorce from Joseph H. Graveland on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Graveland is a daughter of B. R. Hill. She now lives in Watertown.

New Millinery.

TO THE LADIES OF JANESVILLE AND VICINITY.—We will have a display of spring millinery at our millinery parlors, 15 West Milwaukee street, commencing Saturday, March 28, and continuing all the next week. We will always keep on hand a complete line of millinery of the latest creations. Our prices you will find as low or lower than any other house in the city.

In style we are second to none. We have a very efficient corps of workers, our assistant trimmer having trimmed in the leading retail establishments in Chicago for the past nine years.

We are new here, but have come to stay. We earnestly solicit a share of your patronage. We will treat you right, and give you value received, in style and quality for your money. If you don't want to purchase call and see us. It won't cost you anything, and we will be pleased to meet you.

Yours for Trade,

MISS DRISCOLL.

FOAM AND FIZZ DIED WITHIN THE CASKS

THIS TOWN WAS VERY DRY YESTERDAY.

A Drink Couldn't Be Had at Any Bar in Town, and Hereafter This Will Be the Rule on Sunday—Fifty Dollars and Costs the Alternative.

Yesterday was the "driest" Sunday experienced in Janesville since the big wind blew, and the Sahara desert was opened with inspiring ceremonies and a pair of camels.

"You couldn't get a drink for love, money, or marbles," said one man who averred that his throat was as dry as the race track in July, and spake he the truth. Moreover, the police say that it must stay dry, and every saloon man caught "tapping a keg," or pulling a cork on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, will feel the grip of the law, and be compelled to turn the price of five hundred "whiskies" or one thousand "beers" into the coffers of the city through the medium of the municipal court, along with other expenses, to wit, costs. The Sunday law is going to be enforced if it takes the whole police force all the time to do it. "Six days business in the week is enough for a saloon man, the same as it is enough for the store keepers," say the powers that be.

All Closed Up Tight.

This order was sent out Friday and Saturday, and all dealers in wet goods were told to take heed. Failure to comply, the story went, meant appearance in court with the accompanying fine of $50 and costs in proportion to the amount of "trouble" the defendants desired. Last Sunday one man's place was found open and "he had to settle." Yesterday the police kept their eagle eye on all the back doors, all the front doors and all the side doors, of all the saloons in town, and the result was not a drop fell from a bottle, keg or barrel anywhere in town—so far as is known. No saloon was slighted by the smelling committee. All were notified and apparently all complied willingly with the law. Complaints had been made that the ordinance was being violated, so the authorities decided to give all fair warning and then proceed against them as the best way of getting at the trouble.

The order is a permanent one, it is said, so hereafter if you have got to have liquid refreshment on Sunday, it behooves you to get it on Saturday night and put it in the refrigerator.

EXPERIENCED MAN TO RUN CARS

Local Manager Will Be a Man Who Understands the Business.

A man who understands the street car business will be the next superintendent of the local line. Capt. W. T. Vankirk received a letter today from Mr. Blabon saying that an experienced man would be put in charge. When the cars would be started up was not stated.

BENEATH A CLOUD OF SORROW

Mrs. Adelaide Conger.

Mrs. Adelaide Conger, widow of the late Judge Harmon S. Conger, died in San Francisco today. The dispatch received by her son, City Attorney Horace McElroy, was brief, and announced merely that the burial would be in San Francisco.

Mrs. Conger had been failing for several years, and left Janesville last January in the hope that Pacific slope weather might benefit her. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lucy Conger Ransom.

Funeral of John Jones.

The funeral of John Jones was held this morning from St. Patrick's church. Rev. E. M. McGinnity officiated and the pall bearers were Richard Barry, James Nash, William Norton, John Walsh, Walter Daily and Richard Nash.

Funeral of John J. R. Pease.

The funeral of the late John J. R. Pease, notice of whose death will be found in another column, will be held from Christ church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

LOCAL NEWS IN A LINE.

MISS FRANCIS WOODARD returned to her home in Clinton last evening, after a short visit, the guest of Miss Janette Ford.

WHEN Dr. O. G. Bennett arrived down town this morning, his many friends noticed that his step was particularly springy and is smile unusually bland. "Willard M. Bennett arrived at our home at 6:10 o'clock this morning," he explained, "and all are doing well." The young man will vote in 1917, and some day he will be as good a dentist as his father—which is saying a good deal.

Shot Her Deceiver and Herself.

Coatesville, Pa., March 23.—Bertha McConnell, aged 20, of this city, shot Harry Thompson at a hotel in Lancaster Saturday. After the shooting she returned to her home in this city and shot herself. The double crime is alleged to have been the result of Thompson having deceived her. Both Miss McConnell and her victim will probably die.

BUY A BIG ENGINE TO RUN THE LOOMS

COTTON COMPANY INVEST IN AN ENGINE.

Three Hundred Horse Power Machine of the Corlies Style, Is Ordered—Improvements Will Cost Close to $10,000—To Be Ready by Next July.

The water of Rock river will soon cease to turn the wheels at the lower cotton mill, and steam will take its place.

At a meeting of the board of directors it was decided to place an order for a steam engine of the very latest pattern. The contract was drawn up and signed, and calls for a Corlies engine built by the Allison Company of Milwaukee. The engine will be of three hundred horse power and of the compound type. It will be the same pattern as used in the North Chicago street railway power house, and will be one of the most powerful in the city.

"The improvements will be rather expensive before finished," said a local stockholder, "and before the work is done, the change will probably cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. It will take three months to complete the engine, but we hope to be using steam by the middle of July."

WE LEAD; OTHERS FOLLOW.

On and after Feb. 1, '96, and until further notice we will sell:

Why She Felt Sure.
"So you overcame that old antipathy of yours," her husband remarked, "and called on Mrs. Bobbles?"
"Yes."
"Do you think she was glad to see you?"
"I am sure of it."
"Ahem!—you must have some reason for that belief outside of her assurances."
"I have. I had on the old dress that was made over twice, my hat was out of style, and my hair had become uncured; while she had on a gown that couldn't have come from anywhere but Paris. Could she help being glad to see me?"
—Judge.

Half a Loaf Better Than None.
At a dinner party the other night a handsome young physician had been particularly bright and entertaining. As the ladies left the table cigars were passed and accepted by all the gentlemen but the doctor. The host looked at him in astonishment. "What, not smoke?" said he; "why, my dear fellow, you lose half your dinner." "Yes, I know I do," replied the doctor, "but if I should smoke I would lose the whole of it."

In South Dakota.
"Do you remember the pretty Miss Brown?"
"Oh, yes."
"Well, what's her name now? I've been trying to think of it, and I can't."
"It's Mrs. George William Jones."
"Oh, no, it isn't. That was her name before her last divorce."—Chicago Evening Post.

An Explanation.
"It seems to me that you are writing a good many mother-in-law jokes," remarked the critical friend.
"Yes," replied Merriman; "if the market for them holds out I'll be able to pay back some of the money my wife's mother was kind enough to lend us when we went to housekeeping."—Washington Star.

One of Its Possible Uses.
Mrs. McSwatt (at the theater)—For pity's sake, Billiger, what are you doing?
Mr. McSwatt (quiet but determined)—I'm attaching a vacuum tube to this pocket camera. I'm going to have a view of the stage through this hat in front of me.—Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Chaffie Shocked.
"Johnnie," said Mr. Chaffie, at the dinner table, "you are a regular little pig. I suppose you know what a pig is?"
"Yes, sir," replied Johnnie, as he reached for another piece of pie; "a pig is a hog's little boy." (Tableau).—Texas Sifter.

It's Just the Same.
The earth is round. Our fathers thought it flat;
We laugh at them and clearer knowledge claim.
They did not know its form, but what of that?
Their Caesars tried to own it just the same.
—Truth.

There Were Others.
She—No, George; I like you, but I can never be your wife.
He (haughtily)—Never mind. There are others.
She—I know there are, George; I accepted one this morning.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

By Marriage.
No castles in the air they build,
These maids that of the present be;
For they can get them, if so willed,
In England, France or Germany.
—Truth.

WHY SHE WAS AFRAID.

Mother (on her daughter's marriage day)—Why are you so afraid of married life, Evelyn?
Daughter—On account of the curtain lectures; you know, mamma dear, I have no oratorical talent whatever.—Flegende Blaetter.

The Plumber's Revenge.
He laughed, supposing it was fun
They at the plumber poked,
Until the pipes burst in his home,
When he found it was no joke.
—Detroit Tribune.

Quite Likely.
"Timmins says his last novel is bound to make people talk."
"I guess so. I fancy they would rather talk than read it."—Indianapolis Journal.

Extraordinary Devotion.
Nell—Mrs. Roundleigh's devotion to her old husband is simply touching.
Bell—How so?
"She is embroidering forget-me-nots on his night robes."—Town Topics.

To Be Proved.
Ethel—Have you any very expensive tastes, Charlie?
Charlie—Well, I don't know—I'm very fond of you.—London Tid-Bits.

In No Uncertain Tone.
Kilduff—Doesn't Goslin wear fearfully loud clothes?
Skidmore—They certainly speak for themselves, Kilduff.—Town Topics.

When He Writes Home.
Mater—I had a letter, or more properly a note, from John to-day.
Pater—How much did he want?
—Truth.

A Painful Parting.
"It cannot be that we must part!"
He wailed in agony;
And then delivered, with a groan,
His dinner to the sea.
—To Date.

A Boy's Opinion.
Sometimes a young lad will strike a truth in his random talk. Talking to a middle-aged woman one day, a young fellow said, confidentially: "You see, Mrs. R—, my sisters think so much of the conventionalities. They are always telling me that only common girls do so and so, and that girls who have been taught properly don't do this thing or the other thing. Now, I think sometimes they are mistaken. Lots of nice girls do things they didn't use to. They ride bicycles, and they go in parties or clubs with their brothers or friends. They can be jolly and good comrades with a boy; but they are nice, too, and just as well-behaved as my sisters."
"Yes, I think that, too," replied the lady. "And you don't think it makes the girls any worse? What about the boys?"

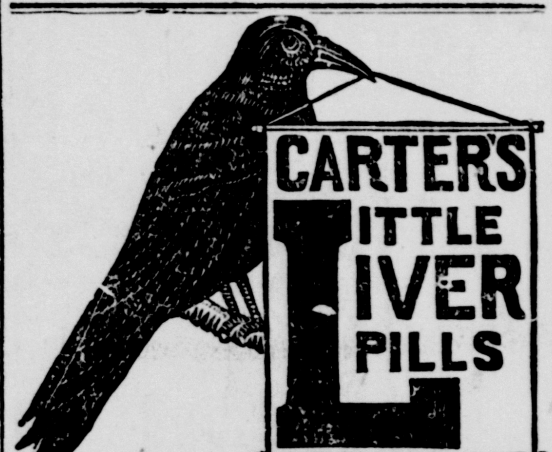

"It makes the girls more friendly and pleasant than those who stay at home and never see anything!" he exclaimed emphatically. "And it does something else. It makes us fellows more careful in what we do and say when girls go everywhere as well as we do. Isn't a 'bicycle tour,' or a 'camping out,' or a tramp in the country, as good sport, and don't it make the fellows better-behaved when the girls are along? Yes, sir! I don't want to go to places where the girls can't go; but I do think that the girls ought to give way, too, in the matter, and try to go around to all the places and take part. The boys want the girls, and I believe it would do the girls good, too, and wouldn't hurt them a bit."
And this expression of opinion of a well-brought up American boy is something for the mothers of girls to think over—Harper's Bazar.

AN INVITATION.
It Gives Us Pleasure to Publish the following Announcement.

All women suffering from any form of illness peculiar to their sex are requested to communicate promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only.

A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America.

This confidence has induced more than 100,000 women to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice during the last few months. Think what a volume of experience she has to draw from! No physician living ever treated so many cases of female ills, and from this vast experience surely it is more than possible she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case.

She is glad to have you write or call upon her. You will find her a woman full of sympathy, with a great desire to assist those who are sick. If her medicine is not what you need, she will frankly tell you so, and there are nine chances out of ten that she will tell you exactly what to do for relief. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has relieved thousands.

Surely, any ailing woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in the history of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound has the demand for it been so great as it is to-day.

THE REALLY "GOOD INJUN."

Old Indian Summer has just come to town
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
In rose tinted blanket and leggings of brown
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
He comes in his warpaint on Squaw Winter's trail
And rides a wild mustang with straw colored tail
That "bucks" at a shadow and takes every rail
(Tom, tom and a tomtom).

By these you may know 'tis the friendly old chief—
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
The whir of the partridge, the fall of the leaf
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
The chirp of the cricket when song birds are rare,
The smoke of the signal fires tingeing the air,
The smiles of abundance and peace everywhere
(Tom, tom and a tomtom).

This dusky old chieftain has come to the aid
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
Of pale faced marauders who're "out on a raid"
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
At eve of the orgies each tepee's alight,
The flames 'neath the caldrons leap high with delight,
While shadowlike specters stalk forth with the night
(Tom, tom and a tomtom).

The "dark of the moon" and the drone of a drum
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)

The tomahawks brandish, the fall hour is come
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)
These ghoulis despoilers take scalp lock and head
And gloat o'er the bodies made toothsome with brear,
While poultrydom rageth, deploring its dead
(Tom, tom and a tomtom).

Suppose, with his trophy, at Thanksgiving time
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)

Each red handed raider were forced into line
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)

And now, if you please, add the guests at the feast,
From north and from south, from the west and the east,
Their name would be legion, I fancy, at least!
(Tom, tom and a tomtom.)

Old Indian Summer is off to the plains
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)

And only the ghost of his presence remains
(Tom, tom and a tomtom)

A flash through the dawn of a mane wildly tossed,
A glimpse of a moccasin beaded with frost,
A sound in the distance like wail of the lost
(Tom, tom and a tomtom).

—Linnie Hawley Drake.

VENUS ANNODOMINI.

She had nothing to do with No. 18 in the Braccio Nuovo of the Vatican, between Visconti's "Ceres" and "The God of the Nile." She was purely an Indian deity—an Anglo-Indian deity, that is to say—and we called her the Venus Annodomini, to distinguish her from other Annodomini of the same everlasting order. There was a legend among the hills that she had once been young, but no living man was prepared to come forward and say boldly that the legend was true.

Men rode up to Simla and staid and went away, and made their name, and did their life's work, and returned again to find the Venus Annodomini exactly as they left her. She was as immutable as the hills, but not quite so green. All that a girl of 18 could do in the way of riding, walking, dancing, picnicking and overexertion generally, the Venus Annodomini did, and showed no sign of fatigue or trace of weariness.

Besides perpetual youth, she had discovered, men said, the secret of perpetual health, and her fame spread about the land. From a mere woman she grew to be an institution, inasmuch that no young man could be said to be properly formed who had not at some time or another worshipped at the shrine of the Venus Annodomini.

There was no one like her, though there were many imitations. Six years in her eyes were no more than six months to ordinary women, and ten made less visible impression on her than a week's fever on an ordinary woman. Every one adored her, and in return she was pleasant and courteous to nearly every one. Youth had been a habit of hers for so long that she could not part with it—never realized, in fact, the necessity of parting with it—and took for her more chosen associates young people.

Among the worshippers of the Venus Annodomini was "Young" Gayerson.
"Very Young" Gayerson, he was called to distinguish him from his father
"Young" Gayerson, a Bengal civilian, who affected the customs—as he had the heart—of youth. "Very Young" Gayerson was not content to worship placidly and for form's sake, as the other young men did, or to accept a ride or a dance, or a talk from the Venus Annodomini in a properly humble and thankful spirit. He was exacting, and therefore the Venus Anno-domini repressed him.

He worried himself nearly sick in a futile sort of way over her, and his devotion and earnestness made him appear either shy or boisterous or rude, as his mood might vary, by the side of the older men who with him bowed before the Venus Annodomini. She was sorry for him. He reminded her of a lad who, three and twenty years ago, had professed a boundless devotion for her, and for whom in return she had felt something more than a week's weakness. But that lad had fallen away and married another woman less than a year after he had worshipped her, and the Venus Annodomini had almost—not quite—forgotten his name.

"Very Young" Gayerson had the same big blue eyes and the same way of pouting his under lip when he was excited or troubled. But the Venus Anno-domini checked him sternly none the less. Too much zeal was a thing that she did not approve of, preferring instead a tempered and sober tenderness.

"Very Young" Gayerson was miserable, and took no trouble to conceal his wretchedness. He was in the army—a line regiment, I think, but am not certain—and since his face was a looking glass and his forehead an open book, by reason of his innocence, his brothers in arms made his life a burden to him and imbittered his naturally sweet disposition.

No one except "Very Young" Gayer-son, and he never told his views, knew how old "Very Young" Gayerson believed the Venus Annodomini to be.

Perhaps he thought her five and twenty, or perhaps she told him that she was this age. "Very Young" Gayerson would have forded the Gagger in flood to carry her lightest word, and had implicit faith in her. Every one liked him, and every one was sorry when they saw him so bound a slave of the Venus Annodomini.

Every one, too, admitted that it was not her fault, for the Venus Annodomini differed from Mrs. Hanksbee and Mrs.
Reiver in this particular—she never moved a finger to attract any one, but like Ninon de l'Encies, all men were attracted to her. One could admire and respect Mrs. Hanksbee, despite all avoid Mrs. Reiver, but one was forced to adore the Venus Annodomini.

"Very Young" Gayerson's papa held a division or a collectorate or something administrative in an unpleasant part of Bengal—full of babus who edited newspapers proving that "Young" Gayer-son was a Nero, and a Scylla, and a Charybdis, and in addition to the babus there was a good deal of dysentery and cholera abroad for nine months of the year. "Young" Gayerson—he was about five and forty—rather liked babus—they amused him—but he objected to dysentery, and when he could get away went to Darjiling for the most part. This particular season he fancied that he would come up to Simla and see his boy.

The boy was not altogether pleased.
He told the Venus Annodomini that his father was coming up, and she flushed a little, and said that she should be delighted to make his acquaintance. Then she looked long and thoughtfully at "Very Young" Gayerson, because she was very, very sorry for him, and he was a very, very big idiot.

"My daughter is coming out in a fortnight, Mr. Gayerson," she said.

"Your what?" said he.

"Daughter," said the Venus Anno-domini. "She's been out for a year at home already, and I want her to see a little of India. She is 19, and a very sensible, nice girl, I believe."

"Very Young" Gayerson, who was a short 22 years old, nearly fell out of his chair with astonishment, for he had persisted in believing, against all belief, in the youth of the Venus Annodomini.
She, with her back to the curtained window, watched the effect of her sentences and smiled.

"Very Young" Gayerson's papa came up 12 days later, and had not been in Simla four and twenty hours before two men, old acquaintances of his, had told him how "Very Young" Gayerson had been conducting himself.

"Young" Gayerson laughed a good deal, and inquired who the Venus Annodomini might be (which proves that he had been living in Bengal where nobody knows anything except the rate of exchange). Then he said, "Boys will be boys," and spoke to his son about the matter. "Very Young" Gayerson said that he felt wretched and unhappy, and "Young" Gayerson said that he repented of having helped to bring a fool into the world. He suggested that his son had better cut his leave short and go down to his duties. This led to an unfilial answer, and relations were strained, until "Young" Gayerson demanded that they should call on the Venus Annodomini. "Very Young" Gayerson went with his papa, feeling somehow uncomfortable and small.

The Venus Annodomini received them graciously, and "Young" Gayerson said: "By Jove! It's Kitty!" "Very Young" Gayerson would have listened for an explanation if his time had not been taken up with trying to talk to a large, handsome, quiet, well dressed girl—introduced to him by the Venus Annodomini as her daughter. She was far older in manner, style and repose than "Very Young" Gayerson, and as he realized this thing he felt sick.

Presently he heard the Venus Anno-domini saying:

"Do you know that your son is one of my most devoted admirers?"

"I don't wonder," said "Young" Gayerson. Here he raised his voice:
"He follows his father's footsteps. Didn't I worship the ground you trod on ever so long ago, Kitty? And you haven't changed since then. How strange it all seems!"

"Very Young" Gayerson said nothing. His conversation with the daughter of the Venus Annodomini was through the rest of the call fragmentary and disjointed.

"At 5 tomorrow, then," said the Venus Annodomini. "And mind you are punctual."

"At 5 punctually," said "Young" Gayerson. "You can lend your old father a horse, I dare say, youngster, can't you? I'm going for a ride tomorrow afternoon."

"Certainly," said "Very Young" Gayerson. "I am going down tomorrow morning. My ponies are at your service, sir."

The Venus Annodomini looked at him across the half light of the room, and her big gray eyes filled with moisture. She rose and shook hands with him.

"Goodby, Tom," whispered the Venus Annodomini.—Rudyard Kipling.

Recognized Classics at Sight.

Mrs. Newrich (in bookstore)—And can you recommend that book you were showing me yesterday afternoon—
"Ivanhoe." I think you called it?

Clerk—Certainly, madam. It is one of the classics.

Mrs. Newrich—Oh, you must be mistaken about that, for we have a lot of the classics in our library, and they are all bound in green morocco, while that book you showed me yesterday was in cloth.—Somerville Journal.

Before and After.

"Seen Jones lately?" he queried as they got on the same car together.

"Not for three months."

"But I thought he was in the habit of dropping into your office every day or two."

"Oh, yes, but that was before he borrowed $10 of me!"—Detroit Free Press.

THEY SAY !

That a man talks about the weather because he can't think of anything else to talk about. That's about the case with the man who has always been going to the tailor for his Clothes.

He Pays About 40 Per cent. Too Much,

but he don't know about any other kind of clothes. Show him a Zeigler tailored suit and you have started him off on a new line of thought. Common sense is it not, to get as much for your money as you can?

You Must

Remember

that the "wholesale tailors" employ tailors; can buy the best fabrics; have straight connections with the most anthoratatitve fashion centers, and can make a suit because they make many
